

2017 Summer Scripture Speaker Bios

Max Lee

Associate Professor of New Testament at North Park Theological Seminary

Education:

- B.A. English Literature University of California, Berkley
- Master of Divinity Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary
- Ph.D. Fuller Theological Seminary

Ministerial and Teaching Experience:

Associate Professor of New Testament at North Park Theological Seminary since 2006.
Wheaton College for three years, Westmont College for one year.

Memberships and Organizational Affiliations:

Ordained as a Baptist minister, Dr. Lee has always tried to teach with a heart for informing the life and ministry of the church. He has served as a pastor, preacher, college staff, and youth leader within mostly an Asian American congregational context.

He was also a short term missionary at Machida Christian Center in Tokyo, Japan . He has spoken widely at various university campus Christian groups (at U.C. Berkeley, UCLA, U.C. Irvine, the University of Washington, MIT, Harvard University, the University of Chicago, Northwestern University, the University of Illinois, Wheaton College, and Westmont College) and at various parishes throughout the United States.

Publications:

Dr. Lee's primary research area focuses on the letters of the Apostle Paul, the Book of Revelation, and the cultural milieu of the Roman world. His monograph on moral transformation will be published by Mohr-Siebeck in 2017. Dr. Lee has also written a short commentary on the Book of Revelation for the revised one volume Baker Illustrated Bible Commentary (2012) and is currently working on an introduction to research trends in Pauline studies for Paternoster Press